Favourable Tailwinds

Rural

- Agricultural sector experienced zero disruptions during COVID period.
- High output from Kharif season followed by good prospects for the Rabi season.
- Favorable policy changes: changes in laws which were neither pro-farmer nor pro-consumer, only pro-middlemen

Chemicals

- Recent Geo-political environment is leading to shift in manufacturing base from China, as a result of coordinated global effort by key end users.
- India given its key advantages, is likely to emerge as a key beneficiary of this global supply chain shift

Auto Ancillaries

- Will benefit from the Bull whip effect where a small change leads to significant change in the supply chain – impacting the ends disproportionately.

Non-Lending Financials: An unpenetrated market

Little to no risk on the asset side

- Within BFSI; we believe non-lenders; especially life insurance players are unique plays on structural growth; with little to no risks on the asset side of the business.
- This is unlike the lenders; where growth is fraught with NPA risks.

Deeply moated brands

- Barriers to entry: Brand and distribution play a crucial role
- Top 5 players account for ~90% of total industry market share.
- We expect most of the growth to accrue to Top 5 players as they continue to build on their existing strengths.

Capital efficient businesses

- A capital efficient business with ~25% RoE for the successful players
- Growth funded internally without shareholder dilution.
- This ensures that all growth flows in to existing shareholders; a classic recipe for long term compounding.

Multi-decadal growth opportunity

- Long growth runway: With 92% protection gap (as per Swiss Re)
- We see life insurance as a structural play
- There is high allocation in life insurance companies is a testimony of our very high conviction on this sector.

Non-Lending Financials: An unpenetrated market

Demand

A long runway for growth

Economic Designation

Companies can charge for moats

How much premium can you charge?

Structural Shifts

Pharmaceuticals

- Share of chronic diseases in India has risen significantly.
- High demand for over the counter VMS (Vitamins, Minerals and Supplements) products is a long term structural shift

Diagnostics

- Awareness about healthcare has increased; demand. Regular, periodic and preventive testing has gone up
- Increased penetration of Health and Term insurance likely to increase the captive business from insurance players

IT

- Work from home (WFH) is the new normal and with some IT Majors offering WFH on a permanent basis; this trend is here to stay.
- Technology has become a necessity as more and more customers prefer digital to physical
- Digital push initiative by the government gives further impetus to this sector

High quality economic recovery

Distinctive and durable market leaders likely to benefit despite short term headwinds

India's growth potential remains intact

- India despite facing multiple challenges over the years; has a track record of ~14% nominal GDP growth over the last 4 decades.
- We believe the basic building blocks to this long term growth remain intact; the pandemic should be a passing event.

Economic environment to accelerate consolidation

- Every downturn tests the survival of the fittest.
- Weak players in an industry suffer the most (especially the unorganized; and players with weak balance sheets).
- Consequently, in the recovery that ensues; the strong get stronger.

Focus on market leaders

- Accelerated formalization of the economy to benefit market leaders
- High stress economic environments necessitate that the strongest will be able to not just survive, but thrive.

Look beyond the short term

- Template for multi-baggers; vision to see, courage to buy and patience to hold
- Patience is the rarest of the three attributes. We believe; today as we're still in the middle of the pandemic; our patience is being tested.
- However, as the dust settles; we believe we will be well rewarded for our patience.
